

Matt Beckley

In 2018 “Havana” by Camila Cabello became the #1 most streamed female vocal performance of all time, logging over 1 billion streams on Spotify alone. The vocal for that recording was produced by Matt Beckley. This followed his vocal production work with Kesha, Britney Spears, and many more. It’s no wonder that Matt has become the go-to vocal producer for superstar artists and producers alike.

In addition to his work as a vocal producer, Matt has produced full tracks for artists such as Avril Lavigne and Madison Beer. He produced the forthcoming single by Lukas James. He also produced “C’mon,” the critically-acclaimed album for the indie rock band, Low.

Matt started out as a guitarist, songwriter and artist. He was musical director and touring guitarist for Katy Perry. But ultimately he realized he’s most at home in the studio helping other artists make great recordings.

Some highlights from Matt’s career include:
